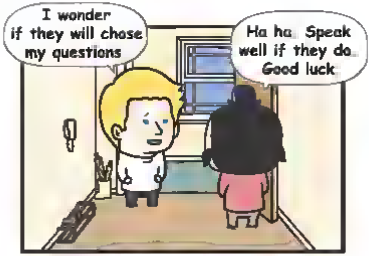
He couldn't have said
he was on the TV for this.

The following day, in the afternoon.

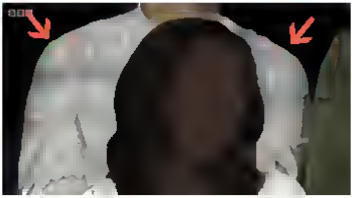


After he'd been thinking hard about the questions, he left home.

A few hours later.

Mev came back home.

Sadly,
Mev hadn't been chosen
but...



After this last scene,
I could never see him on the TV again.

This time, an ant's buttock

... we decided to watch the programme the following day when Mev got back home.

The next day...

We played the show on the BBC website.

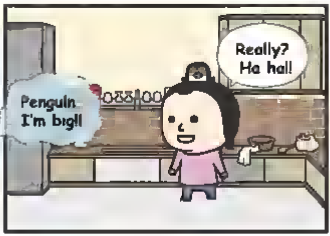
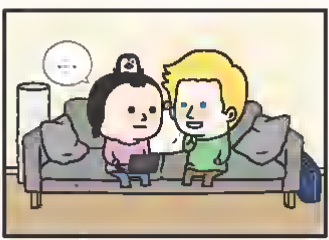
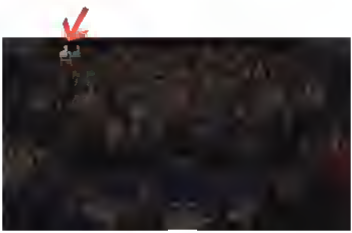
A bit later.





Mev get a chance to watch a show called Question Time live.

This is a famous TV show in the UK



He was as small as an ant's nostrill.

It's a progamme that debates issues that the audiences ask about and the show has politicians, journalist and activists as the guests.

Mev was very excited to be a part of the show
